

3.7 Managing and monitoring partnership and collaborations

Procedures for ongoing monitoring and review are core features of all collaborative and partnership arrangements for research programmes and related services. These apply to joint awarding relationships; work placements; off-campus delivery; transnational provision; employer partnerships and other scholarly institutions. Any of these partnerships may be national or international.